An opinion of Attorney General John W Bricker on the legal status of the Marion County Humane society and the legality of further payment to Jame Ullom humane officer and James H Eymon attorney for the society was sought today by Prosecuting Attorney Paul D Michel at the request of County Auditor Harry V Mounts

The prosecuting attorney asked two questions The first is whether under the facts regarding the society as set forth in a recent report of state examiners the auditor may continue to issue warrants for the salaries of Mr Ullom and Mr Eymon The second is whether the county commissioners under the present status of the society may make appropriations for salaries of Mr Ullom and Mr Eymon for 1936

Quotes from Report

The prosecutor in his communication to the attorney general quotes the examiners report to present the status of the society

The state examiner quoted Dr E H Paffensperger as saying he was supposed to be president of the society but that to the best of his knowledge no meetings had been held in the last two years

The examiner concluded his statements with From the information furnished we are of the opinion that the Marion County Humane society has ceased to function and as a consequence therof no longer exists We are therefore compelled to hold that any future payments from the county treasury as salary of the

A dog owned by A C Long who lives on the edge of town caused the capture of Jones and Horner The animal detected the pair and created a disturance attracting Howard Robb a city fireman aiding in the hunt

When the prisoners sighted Robb they started to run but halted when he fired over their heads Denton and Carson were captured by other searchers

All told the sheriff they left their hiding place to seek food His wife fixed them a meal and then he posted extra guards about their cells

Auditor Prepares List of Highways Affected by Measure, Tag Fees To Meet Remaining Charges.

County road assessments totaling $41 843 95 levied against rural property owners for their share of improving county roads have been cancelled and will be paid out of the money Marion county receives from the sale of automobile license plates as the result of enactment by the state legislature this year of the Armbruster bill

This was announced today by County Auditor Harry V Mounts as he finished tabulation of the count, road assessments automatically canceled by the bill

He has turned this tabulation over to the county commissioners who are preparing to issue bonds totaling $2 060 01 to meet the special assessment bonds on county roads that will fall due in 193

To Run 15 Years

The bonds like future issues to be made annually to retire assessment bonds as they mature will be paid off over a period of 15 years under the bill which sets aside 10 per cent of the annual motor vehicle license plate revenue for that purpose

Township roads as well as county roads are affected by the bill Auditor Mounts said He added he is working on a long list of township road assessments against property owners and figures for the town ship road figures will be ready within a few days

Marion county the auditor found has county road assessments that would be due in semi annual installments from property owners up to September of 1939 and town ship road assessments that fall due semi annually as late as 1941 All of these assessments will be eliminated from the tax bills of rural residents by the Armbruster bill he said

Wiper county road improvements have special assessments outstanding against the owners of propert abutting on the roads Auditor Mounts tabulation shows The road the special assessments still due on them and the maturity date of the last of the assessmen bonds follow

Group of Britons Suggest Closing of Suez Canal

Publication Wants Action Sponsored by League To Avert African War

By The Associated Press

LONDON July 27 Closing of the Suez canal to Italian warships as a means of averting war between Italy and Ethiopia was urged upon Great Britain today

Such a step was advanced by the reputable London Law Times as a measure of disciplinary action to be sanctioned by the League of Nations

The proposed closing of the canal would be in line with Britains temporary ban on arms shipment to both Italy and Ethiopia

The Law Times urged that Great Britain close the canal as a protecting power

The demand was made as the British government is preparing to call for a complete showdown in the Italo Ethiopian dispute at Geneva this week

The Suez canal is the key factor in Premier Mussolini's heralded campaign against Ethiopia since its closing would force Italy's warships to detour thousands of miles It would necessitate their going around Africa to reach Eritrea or Italian Somaliland

The canal is bound by the nine power treaty of 1888 to remain open to traffic in time of war as well as in time of peace to the warships and merchant vessels of all nations

The Law Times says however that Italy cannot expect that treaty to be observed and at the same time itself violate not one but four treaties—the 1906 tri par

HOUSE LEADERS DECIDE TO BROADEN TAX ON RICH

Will Increase Levies on incomes as Low as $50 000 Instead of $150,000 Previously Mentioned.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 27—A tentative decision to broaden vastly the scope of the Roosevelt tax bill by increasing levies on incomes as low as $50 000 was reached today by house ways and means committee Democrats

Until today the Democrats had agreed only to increase the levies on incomes above $150,000 a year but they found that to make a substantial increase in revenue they would have to drop below that sum

Rep Samuel B Hill Democrat of Washington acting committee chairman estimated the change would mean revenue from individual income totaling $40,000,000 to $50 000 000 instead of the $20 440 000 previously anticipated

With the increase he asserted he felt the whole bill including the taxes on inheritances gifts excess profits and corporation incomes would produce $275 000 000 a year under present conditions and around $400 000 000 when times were better

His recollection of the tentative agreement was that rates on the lower incomes—in the $50 000-$60 000 class—would be only 1 per cent above those at present graduating to a maximum of 75 per cent on that portion of an income over $10,000,000.

MARION SHARES IN REDUCTION OF RELIEF LOAD

County Director Estimates 400 Returned to Private Jobs Since May 1

STATE ALSO SHOWS DROP

Stillman Orders 36 Per Cent Cut in Budget Here as Allowances Are Set

Reductions in the relief rolls of the county and state due to increased employment in private industry headed a series of developments in the relief situation today

Marion county relief lists are being reduced almost daily by the return of relief clients to private jobs John Abel county relief director said He estimated approximately 400 employable relief clients have taken private jobs since May 1

The Associated Press reported 1125 relief clients had been dropped in the last month from the rolls of the state's nine most populous districts indicating employment picking up in private industry Federal relief headquarters reported a total state reduction of 21 000 cases

Budgets Reduced

Other important developments were the announcement of reduced relief budgets for the counties in August and final preparations to put in operation within a few days the new works progress administration program under which the federal government will seek to provide jobs for all employables on relief

August relief budgets totaling $614170 for the state as a whole included $50 147 for Marion county a 36 per cent reduction from July This amount Mr Abel said must cover all direct relief and WPA work for the month As a result of the reduction cash relief checks prepared on the basis of past allowances for the first two weeks of August must be stretched by relief clients to cover their needs for the first three weeks of the month He added he is hopeful that the direct relief allowances to families and non family persons will not be reduced more than 9 per cent for the month as a whole

August budgets for other counties in the Marion district reported by The Associated Press are Crawford $15 54 Delaware $17 080 Hardin $12 800 Union $7 243 Wyandot $8 127 and Morrow $7 89

Mr Abel said it is hoped all county relief headquarters that 1 200 relief clients will be working in March a county by Sept 1 if the WPA program gets into full swing by that time He said projects have been approved or are awaiting approval that would provide 45 days work for 1 200 men

Between 85 and 90 per cent of those who fail to be assigned to works projects are classed as common laborers he said

The total number of employables on the relief lists as of last May 1 was approximately 1 600 per

BARBER CODE CASE ACTION IS DROPPED

Attorney General Directs Dismissal of Charge Against Morton R Fillinger

At the request of Attorney General John W Bricker a common pleas court action against Morton R Fillinger Marion barber who was charged with violation of the state barber code was dismissed this morning

Prosecuting Attorney Paul D Michel prepared the motion for dismissal after receiving a letter from the attorney general asking that this step be taken

Although no explanation of the reasons for dismissal were given by the attorney general it was assumed that recent legislation limiting under that of the OBU industrial recovery act under which the barbers code was drawn were responsible for the attorney generals decision to drop the case

The case was filed against Fillinger because he charged 5 cents for haircuts whereas the code minimum price was 40 cents

Fillinger's case was regarded as a test case as Fillinger was prepared to contend that enforcement of the code would deprive him of his constitutional rights

Fillinger's case was the only one based on alleged code violations pending in court here

Reds Tear Flag From Bremen in New York Riots

One Man Shot, Two Policemen and Scores of Participants Hurt in Fight at Brooklyn Dock.

BATTLE ON STREETS

Demand Release of Ernest Thaelman Imprisoned Leader of Communist Party in Germany

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK July 27 Communists ripped the German flag with Nazi swastika superimposed from the bow of the liner Bremen today hurled it into the swirling Hudson and precipitated a bruising fight between nearly 2,000 of their sympathizers and 300 policemen

One man was shot two policemen were severely injured and scores of other participants in the battle were cut and bruised

Excepting skirmishes on the bow of the liner and in the tourist class section most of the fighting took place in the street in front of the pier from which the boat sailed a half hour late

Demand Members Release

The communists later hoked the street in front of the West 47th street police station where they demanded release of their fellows arrested in the earlier fighting and fought on a second pitched battle in which ordinary citizens awakened from their slumbers joined the police

Buckets of water were poured from upstairs windows on the communists chanted Free the arrested seamen Household articles and other missiles were hurled into the street Reserve policemen charged with nightsticks and blackjacks

The communists were massed on the river front a half hour before the Bremen was scheduled to sail They sang the Internationale and shouted Down with Hitler and Free Thaelman (Ernest Thaelman is the leader of the German Communist party and was formerly a member of the Reichstag He has been imprisoned in Germany for two years)

In the street 150 uniformed patrolmen 100 detectives and 25 mounted policemen tried to maintain order and see that only persons with proper credentials boarded the liner

Beach Ships Bow

Three communists appeared on the bow of the boat A united cheer from the street warned the police of the ruse plan but too late Before seamen or members of the allen squad on the boat could reach them the three had torn down the flag and thrown it into the water The tide carried it quickly seaward and sailors put out in a small boat to retrieve it

Two shots were fired as detectives reached the men One of them struck a man who gave his name as Edward Frollotte 31 Detective Matthew Bolemon lost his gun and his billy and was severely beaten too Another flag later was run up on the bow of the Bremen with elaborate ceremony

From the street jeers drifted up and fighting went on

Few of the liners 1 500 passengers were aware of the riot

Four persons arrested were arraigned in West Side court on charges of felonious assault pleading innocent and returning to jail in lieu of $500 bond each

The amount of the bond was fought by Abraham Unger, attorney for the International Labor Defense who represented the men after Morris Ploscy assistant district attorney obtained consent of the bench to the figure

The Nazis themselves on the Bremen stated the riot asserted Unger during the argument The

Inquiry Follows Testimony He Left Power Firm Leader s Hotel Room With Box

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 27—The senate lobby committee is investigating the private finances of Rep Patton Democrat of Texas—at Patton's invitation The inquiry results from testimony that out of his first $3 100 of government salary the congressman invested $1 000 in United States bonds

At the same time the committee is using all of its resources to untangle a conflicting story about a mysterious newspaper wrapped package

One witness said he had seen Patton carry such a box from the hotel room of John W Carpenter Texas power company president the day before the congressman voted against a utility bill providing for compulsory dissolution of certain holding companies

Denies Wrong Doing

This box was described by E V Sellers a friend of Patton Patton denied his accounts to the committee investigators denying he had done anything wrong

Carpenter issued a statement declaring that any insinuation or inference that I ever gave Mr Patton anything of value is baseless and false

I have never given nor indicated the giving to Mr Patton of anything of any kind except the box of cigars given him by my son Carpenter said

He said he and his family were away on a motor trip on the date mentioned by Sellers and no one saw Mr Patton at any time on that day

WHEAT PRICES JUMP 5 CENTS

Belief Black Rust Worst in History Brings Rally; Reaction Follows.

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 27 — Suggestions that 1935 is proving to be the worst black rust year ever known found ready credence today, and wheat markets soared excitedly.

Only the government limit on price advances stopped the upward whirl. At a full five cents a bushel limit of advances, the market stood nearly 16 cents up since three weeks ago.

General relief was expressed that black rust damage, the main cause of rising prices, would cause the United States to keep on a domestic basis and that Canada's recent huge surplus would no longer prove a burden.

Because of heavy profit-taking, wheat reacted somewhat at the last, and closed unsettled, 2⅛@3⅜ net higher, Sept. 92⅞@93¼, corn ⅝@1⅛ up, Sept. 77⅛@78, oats ⅜@1⅛ advanced.

lite agreement, the Briand-Kellogg peace pact, the League of Nations covenant and the 1929 treaty of friendship with Ethiopia.

"The freedom of passage through the canal is of vital importance to one of the hypothetical belligerents," the law journal says. "Both are signatories to the Briand-Kellogg pact and if one declares war in violation of that pact she could not complain if the protecting power closed the canal."

Advocating a league mandate empowering Great Britain to bar Italy's warships from the canal, the authoritative legal publication adds:

"It would place the canal and its controllers in a new and honorable role as guardians of the world's peace."

Selassie Claims He Wants Peace

By The Associated Press

ADDIS ABABA, July 27—Emperor Haile Selassie proclaimed Ethiopia's desire for a peaceful settlement of her dispute with Italy in a written statement today and declared that Ethiopia confidently awaited a decision of the League of Nations.

The "kings of kings and conquering lion of Judah" declared that it was up to the league itself to decide whether one member of that body could violate the territorial integrity of another state.

With a session of the league council called for July 31 the emperor said:

"On the occasion of the assembly of the council we declare we are seeking a peaceful settlement.

The essential base of the dispute is in the interpretation of the Italo Ethiopian treaty of 1908 referring to the Somaliland frontiers. The covenant of the league considers arbitration necessary in a dispute over the interpretation of a treaty.

League Council To Meet July 31

By The Associated Press

GENEVA, July 27—League of Nations officials announced today that the secretariat, after a consultation with Maxim Litvinoff, president of the council, had decided to convoke an extraordinary session of the council July 31 to deal with the Italo-Ethiopian dispute.

These officials said that Italy, in replying to a query as to what date was most acceptable for the session, refrained from stating definitely whether her representatives would attend the session, merely expressing indifference as to the date.

(Rome dispatches today said that the Italian government had telegraphed the league expressing Italy's willingness to attend the council session with the provision that the council limit its discussions to ways and means of forwarding the work of the Italo-Ethiopian conciliations commission).

DATE SET FOR BIDS ON CITY HOG FARM

Proposals for Lease of Tract and Purchase of Garbage To Be Received.

The city board of control will open bids Sept. 3 at noon for lease of the city hog farm on the Agosta road and purchase of the city's garbage for hog feeding purposes.

It will be the second group of bids to be considered by the board, which recently rejected the first group after discovering that the high bidder to whom an award was tentatively made had included a clause requiring the city to maintain the farm during the term of the lease.

The city's contract with the Terminal Service Co. of Cincinnati, which has been operating the farm, expired July 1. The company, however, has agreed to continue operation of the farm until a new lessor is selected.

In order to carry a thread of the plot through the entire drama the incidents will be woven around the lives of a principal character, his wife and his family.

The cast is now being selected.

The tentative outline of scenes to be depicted are as follows: Departing scene—pioneers leaving their homes, exile of the Indians, arrival of the early settlers on the banks of the Scioto, hunting scenes, skirmishes with the Indians, family worship,—the circuit rider, planning the village, an envy church, a pioneer school, the old singing school, civil war scene, coming of the railroad, the naming of the village, forward pioneers.

No Intentional Errors

Regarding other classes of findings for recovery made by the examiners the prosecutor said he found no evidence of any intentional mishandling of funds and no criminal intent in any of the errors

Each official he said received a copy of parts of the examiners report related to his respective office and it is the individual responsibility of officials to make changes in their handling of public business to conform to the laws cited by the examiner and suggestions made by him for improving the procedure in handling county affairs

Prosecutor Michel said he has taken steps to remedy the language of the surety bonds of two members of the board of county commissioners The examiners had pointed out that the bonds did not contain required language assuring the faithful discharge of his official duties and for the payment of any loss or damage that the county may sustain by reason of his failure therein

resenting between 75 and 80 per cent of the total relief load of the county Mr Abel said He predicted 400 of these have found work in private industry leaving about 1 400 employables on relief eligible for assignment to government works projects

Mr Abel predicted the first assignment of men to WPA projects in this county will provide jobs for 400 workers and that this number will be increased rapidly

All employable relief clients are required to register at the state city employment office here under the new program Mr Abel explained that private industry has the first choice of workers PWA projects have second choice and the WPA is designed to provide jobs for all of the employable relief clients not given work by private industry or the PWA

When the WPA program gets in operation it is expected that the problem of caring for direct relief clients who are not employable and who are not members of a relief family in which there is an employable member will be shifted from the federal government to the state or counties Governor Davey's assertion Thursday that responsibility for providing funds for this purpose rests on the county commissioners brought varied reactions from commissioners throughout Ohio today The Associated Press reported

C C Stillman federal relief administrator for the state was reported today to be preparing for the start of 1 000 WPA projects possibly next week which will be the signal for gradual reductions in relief allowances as 20 000 persons go to work under the $10 000 000 program

Germans Want U. S Apology

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 27—The German press tonight demanded diplomatic intervention and an apology from Washington for the incident at New York last night in which the German flag was torn from the stern of the steamship Bremen

Some papers accused the New York police of having known in advance of a planned attack on the part of what was called here a howling communist mob

The Hamburger Fremdenblatt said

The insult to the German flag by communists in New York must be followed by diplomatic consequences

It must be expected that American officials will excuse themselves for this incident

The communist demonstration is a new proof of the atrocity which is deliberately cultivated and which finds no sufficient resistance on the part of the local New York authorities

State Department Expresses Regret

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON July 27 —Regret at mistreatment of the German flag by anti Nazi demonstrators who last night tore it from the steamship Bremen was expressed on behalf of the state department today by Wilbur J Carr acting secretary

We know nothing about the incident in New York Carr told newspapermen other than that which appeared in the newspapers this morning Apparently there was a demonstration at the pier which was taken in hand by a large force of police and quelled

It would seem that two or three individuals got through the lines onto the vessel and mistreated the German flag Of course it is unfortunate that two or three persons should have mistreated the flag of any nation with which the United States is at peace

Berlin Police Chief Warns Against Individuals Acting on Own Initiative

By The Associated Press

BERLIN July 27 — Count von Helldorf Nazi police chief of Berlin announced today that the state itself would conduct its fight against Jewry and that individual actions against Jews were forbidden

Von Helldorf's announcement gave no clue as to the measures the Nazis planned in continuing their anti Semitic drive except that it would be conducted in another way

In a decree which the police chief issued in agreement with the party officers he said

The fact has been recently ascertained that in a few cases (Nazi) party members have allowed themselves to be led astray by provocateurs to participate in anti Semitic demonstrations

The state party has again and again emphasized that individual actions are prohibited These single actions include painting and damaging name plates shop windows et cetera

It is noticeable that in individual cases the police are hindered from doing their duty by provocateurs mentioning my name The fight against Jewery will be conducted by the state Nazi movement in another way

Any one participating in individual prohibited action puts himself outside of the state party and is liable to punishment

READY MADE WIFE

SYNOPSIS

Rex Moore has returned from a round trip flight to America But he had a temporary recurrence of his old blindness pon larding has found that he may in time go completely blind and does not tell Laurie whom he loves the truth She believes he has grown cold their situation is entangled by the innocent lie the told Mark Albery their employer It was that they were married Laurie shes to tell the real situation to everyone Rex asks that she wait until he has flown the Pacific

CHAPTER 33

Parting Plan

OF course I don't want to see you found out Laurie's eyes blazed I made a bargain and I'm prepared to stick to it Besides I'm in it too And as you've so often pointed out I've made a good thing out of it

"You're a sport" said Rex Well it's like this I want to do the Pacific flight as soon as possible At once And I must have a free mind That mock divorce business will take time It's got to be a foolproof plan or we shall look like a couple of idiots as well as crooks There's not a soul who would understand our position

But I can't think it out with the Pacific flight before me Will you agree that we let it stand over until I come back?

His voice had the eagerness of a boy's He loved her but he was a man and love could no be everything in his life and for the moment he was in the grip of a fixed idea

His words fell coldly on her heart

I don't want to interfere with the Pacific flight she said But I won't stay here any longer It's not right Why should we go on sponging on Mr Albery? I've got my own place to go back to That's what I shall do

Of course as you please Perhaps it would be better if we just met occasionally at first We don't want people to talk too much all at once do we?

I suppose not Am I to tell Mr Albery?

I leave that to you Perhaps a hint would be wise Always remember when you're playing the end of this game that it is all my fault He laughed again He was on fire with jealousy of Albery just as Albery raged with jealousy of him

And you will tell Mrs Steele she suggested I would like you to do that And it would be a good way of getting it about

The man gave a twisted smile at this piece of sheer femininity but he said coldly

Yes I will tell Mrs Steele when I have an opportunity But I shall be grateful if you don't make it out an absolute break Laurie

All right then said Laurie and added quite gaily It'll be a great relief to get back to normal life

"Thank you" retorted Rex grimly "You've been a brick I'll get on to Albery and fix things up You'll stay here the night?"

Oh yes I'll have to. Glad will be tired when she gets back from the show And tomorrow is Saturday and Mr Albery won't be up, so I shall have all day to move."

Rex went to the telephone.

Laurie went into the kitchen She was sure he would like some tea. He still looked grey and exhausted and, in a queer way, different. She had dispensed with Mrs. Budd after the early morning while he was away

"It's all right," he said, coming into the kitchen a few minutes later. "Albery was pretty beastly at first, because I'd not rung him up from Ireland. But, of course, he's glad that I did the flight. I'm to have the bungalow and start getting ready at once. I'll now the stage is set again La... his time for the final curtain

He went into his bedroom and packed his meager belongings in a shabby suitcase while Laurie got the tea

He drank two cups as if he were thirsty but would not eat anything

Well I'll be off Laurie I suppose we can both be trusted not to make idiots of ourselves I'll write to you at your place then"

Then she said suddenly there is one thing I'd like you to do for me one of these days

What's that" He looked at her his eyes lighting up with his eager frankness that she had known during their queer comradeship of gaiety

Take me up in a plane before you go off again She spoke the words mechanically as if they had been put into her mouth It was an uncontrollable impulse A moment ago she had not had the slightest idea of wanting him to do such a thing

Why of course I shall be delighted he said looking slightly blank Have you never been up"

Yes once Last year Mr Albery gave a party to all the staff and there were little joy trips all day I went up and I loved it And I would like to go up again

Any time you like he said

I'll let you know when I can get off Of course any Sunday It was a person in a dream who spoke but she to had quite natural

Right let me know I'll be I'll go and call the porter now to get me a taxi

He came back and stood looking at her awkwardly In his strange grey eyes struggled a thousand things that no words could express What he did say was commonplace enough

It's a nice hole this flat I think But you'll be glad to get away

And suddenly he came up to her and laid his hand on her shoulder and said in a hoarse stifled voice

I'm glad you're going away I'm glad I'm not going to see you any more like this I wouldn't want you to be near me and more than I couldn't bear it Good-bye

And he was gone

Laurie was working with Mark Albery in his room at the office 10 days later

The time had slipped by as periods of life do when the brain and heart are dazed by emotion Laurie had had a large amount of special work to do and her employer had been very little in London

When she first left the flat in Chelsea and returned to her own rooms he had commented on it but appeared to regard it as natural now that her husband was at Crelton preparing for his great flight and would be away for some time after he had started on it He had had very little personal conversation with her seeming to be absorbed in business

But today when they had finished and she was just getting up from her chair he rose swiftly towards her with his graceful catlike steps and laid his hand on her arm

Don't go I want to talk to you I have been thinking of you night and day I can't sleep for thinking of you Why wouldn't you come down to Grotton on Sunday?

I had an appointment that I couldn't break Mr Albery It was very kind of you to ask me

Why won't you come down and stay at the bungalow? You could do your work there just as well In fact last week you would have been very useful to me And when I'm up here any of the men can take my correspondence

You did not say I would be useful Mr Albery If I had known you wanted me of course I would have come

Don't you want to be with your husband?

Laurie felt herself coloring The moment had come It was the first opportunity to do what she and Rex had discussed

Is there anything wrong between you? he went on His voice was more toneless even than usual his face more impassive But his eyes gleamed between his half closed lids with a watchful fire Moore never mentions you I've seen quite a bit of him He gives me the impression that he doesn't want to talk so I haven't asked him anything

Laurie took the plunge

We are not sure that we are getting on very well Mr Albery We have decided to part for a time I don't know why Rex didn't tell you Of course he is very busy We have decided not to do anything definite until he comes back from his flight

You can't expect me to be sorry he said Moore doesn't understand women I have seen all the time that he makes you unhappy And now I suppose he is carrying on with that old friend of his Mrs Steele?

Laurie shook her head dumbly She could not find words to answer that The very thought was like a knife in her heart.

Laurie is made a strange offer Monday

Your Health

BY DR. R. S. COLELAND

Drink More Water

HOW MANY of us are aware that water constitutes two-thirds of the body is made up of pure water The amount of water varies in the different parts of the body For example the blood is over 90 per cent water and the muscles 75 per cent Water is an important part of every tissue and organ in the body

During the summer months the temperature is great a large amount of water is lost from the body through perspiration Since it is important that the bodies contain a certain amount of water this loss must be made up by increased intake

When the normal ratio of water in the body is disturbed the victim becomes nervous This interferes with the function of the heart circulation and results in many disorders and impaired health If the child is not the cause of fever or sunstroke the trouble may be some serious

Occasionally this disturbance in water balance arises in certain constitutional disorders For example it may result from some severe gastrointestinal disturbance such as intoxication kidney disease or the peculiar condition of pregnancy

Infection if lasting a published by the injection of fluids into the body injections may be given under the skin in a vein or in the rectum When done under the skin the procedure is called hypodermoclysis a big word you may use when on parade

No doubt many of my readers who have undergone major operations have experienced some method of water administration It is often a life saving procedure restoring normal water balance and hastening recovery

I am frequently asked what is the best time to drink water and how much water should be drunk Some persons avoid water between meals and only drink it at meal time Bear in mind that almost all foods contain water Some foods contain more of it than others Many fruits and vegetables contain as much as 90 per cent water

In addition to this source of water supply it is advisable to drink about six to eight glasses of water a day This may be taken at meals or between meals Sometimes it is better to drink between meals and not at meal times

Interesting Facts For Automobile Drivers

Uninsured automobile owners and drivers do not buy insurance for only several reasons The chief one is, "THEY HAVE NOT UNDERSTOOD THE NEED FOR AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE." They close their minds to the facts and falsely comfort themselves with the thought that ANY ACCIDENT IN WHICH THEY ARE INVOLVED WILL BE THE OTHER FELLOW'S FAULT"

The Following Facts are Worthy of Mental Retention

99 drivers out of every 100 involved in accidents blame the other driver Only "1" out of 100 willingly takes the blame!

93 1 per cent of drivers involved in accidents are MALE

Approximately 3 1% of involved drivers are under 18 years of age

Not more than 30 7% of involved drivers are from 18 years to 24 years of age.

Approximately 59 8% of involved drivers are from 25 years to 54 years of age

Approximately 6 1% of involved drivers are over 55 years of age

From 79 9 to 80 7% of all accidents happen on dry surface roadways

From 52 9 to 61 2% of all accidents happen in the daylight.

From 4 00 P. M to 9 00 P. M are the most dangerous hours.

Nearly 89% of cars involved in accidents are found to be in good shape.

7 per cent of drivers involved in accidents have less than one year's driving experience. 90 per cent of drivers having accidents have more than one year's driving experience.

More than 80 per cent of youthful deaths involved boys and girls walking or running across streets and highways.

Nearly half of accidents occur at street intersections.

The premium charge for Personal Injuries or death to others is based on the theory that the average driver will have such an accident ONCE IN TWENTY YEARS

The premium charge for Property Damage, damage to property of others, is based on the theory that the average persons will have one such accidents in TEN YEARS.

Married Comrades

BY ADELE CARRISON

Mary Recounts Her Foolish Love Affair With Jack Leslie When She Was a Dancer

AT MY bitter diatribe against Jack Leslie Mary threw up her head in the fashion of a spirited colt prodded by a spur.

"Do you think I don't know the full extent of his wickedness?" she asked. "I wasn't trying to excuse him. I was just trying to tell you."

Her voice trailed away again and I smiled down at her encouragingly.

"I knew you weren't excusing him, darling. I said tenderly. "I know that no one could loathe the man more than you do. I shouldn't have interrupted you but I sensed every time I think of what he did to Noel. Please tell me what you were going to say about him."

"It's only this," she said. "It wasn't all pretense with Jack. Pursuing for me. I mean. Oh, it was a loathsome thing compared to what Noel felt for me and it wasn't so strong but what he'd have seen me cut up in pieces if it would have furthered his fortunes. But in his own sordid way and with as much emotion as a cobra could possess he cared for me. I fancy as much as it was in him to care for anyone."

Made Love to Her

"He never gave me a moment's peace from the time he took me down there to dance with him as the mysterious widely advertised masked dancer," she went on. "He was always making the most extravagant protests of wild love for me and trying to kiss me too. He didn't seem to mind who her people were looking or not.

"After Noel's first battle with him he didn't bother me when people were looking any more," she went on, "but always when we were alone he kept pestering me and of course I couldn't tell Noel. I didn't want another battle and besides—can you believe it of me Auntie Madge? I was silly enough to be flattered that the handsome cabaret singer with so many women in love with him should be crazy about me.

"Do you mean that you were in love with him, Mary?" I asked quietly but with inward tenseness for it was a question that had long been unanswered in my mind.

Not Really Love

"You couldn't call it love," she said scornfully, "but he did have a certain attraction for me. And it seemed like something out of a movie when he told me that this song, he is singing now was my song, and that every time he sang it hummed it he was thinking of me. He said that I was to remember what the words meant — that no one else was ever to have me.

"I can't deny that I was thrilled to pieces when he first told me that Mary went on shamefaced-ly. "I suppose one reason was because I was so young. I think most girls of that age, especially in this movie mad world would have felt as I did.

"I would have to subject them to the same temptation. I commented dryly although I knew that many young girls would never have given the cabaret singer a second thought.

"The thrill didn't last very long though she went on. For one thing I began to see what a thorough rotter Leslie was. And then—there was Noel—in contrast.

Thinks of Noel

Her face lost its strained look, softened, grew tender, brooding. I knew that her thoughts had flown to her young husband, separated from her so inexplicably by the imperative and mysterious task his father had set for him with the injunction that it meant life or death to the elder Veltzen. Then there came a swelling crescendo of sound from the voice singing outside in the tree, and her face lost its soft-ened look, grew tense and bitter again.

"To think that voice ever thrilled me," she said. "What a fool I was and what a price I paid.

The Stars Say--

For Saturday, July 27

For Sunday, July 28, 1938

SUNDAY'S HOROSCOPE is a most propitious one, forecasting high honors, distinction and emoluments for the church, clergy, philanthropies and all in places of power and prestige. Rewards for meritorious work and fidelity are to be dispensed with the implied financial and social pushing to high goals of happiness and achievement.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of advancement, promotion, increased financial status and personal prestige. Those in positions of influence and power will be found ready to support and heartily cooperate with meritorious propositions as well as to reward fidelity and ability. It is a time for reaching for such high goals. Investments and possessions should thrive.

A child born on this day may have great ability and ambitions for which it will be ready, to apply itself industriously and faithfully, attaining high rewards in return.

Notable nativity: Bramwell Booth, Salvation Army leader.

For Monday, July 29, 1938

MONDAY'S ASTROLOGICAL forecast is read as an adverse one with many tendencies and urges turned in the direction of mischief with ultimate regret. There is a portent of tumult and tempest in both speech and action with a culmination of criminals in the way of scandal, treachery, generally, afflicted social conditions and malicious attacks. Also there is a sign of a sudden disruption and unsettlement, possibly in consequence of this recklessness and turbulence.

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves involved in a vortex of unsettled and turbulent conditions brought about by their own reckless and tempestuous indulgences. Unless there be firm guard imposed on tongue and temper there may be reprisals in scandal and treachery and other vindictive attacks.

A child born on this day may have some very troublesome proclivities to be nipped in the bud by early discipline and training. Tempest, violence and malice must be curbed before it wrecks an energetic career.

Notable nativity: Benito Mussolini, dictator of Italy.

Cream is automatically whipped by releasing gas under pressure into a glass container invented at the University of Illinois.

REPORT PASSING OF CHECK TO POLICE

A questionable check for $1.11 was cashed last Thursday by the shop at 111 North State street, yesterday. The report was filed by the clerk who said the check was signed M. A. MRS. RICHARD CROOKS
Mildred Crooks is the original of the schoolgirl romance years ago. She and Dick Crooks were high school buddies, she played the accompaniment for his graduation solo, he liked the performance so much he engaged her as accompanist for life. She still plays piano for him when he works but not in public. He called Mildred Dim Dot when he knew her in school. He still does although she is far from dotty.

Mrs. Crooks hasn't cooked the Crooks meals for quite some time but she could if she had to, she likes to swim, hunt, fish, play golf and tennis. The Crooks have a camp in New Brunswick on Loon Bay. There are two children, Richard Jr. who is lucky or bad and Patricia who is almost always Patsy, when at home the Crooks family lives at Seagirt, N. J. and likes it.

Just Things

Signs

SIGHTING the season's first harvest fly just as exquisite as the first robin's chirp in the lawn we are reminded that picnic days also numbered when days are long and lazy and we're in the thick of it, or will be the first time we're asked to "bring a dish" to the annual family picnic.

Picnic-Minded

We seem to be picnic minded this season but after all a picnic is a picnic, do go a long ways when it comes to making a success. Of course the fire hazard and their tendency to flare up in Alaska are having to be taken into account, so better perhaps by first aid out of doors while their homes are under. All in all it was a time when relief to shelter for the night a picnic is an asset.

Century Old

PICNICS were started in the 19th century, so in case you are interested in knowing just who started the thing, according to Quo is the knowledge of 1902 was marked by a new species of entertainment called a picnic supper. It consisted of a variety of dishes. The subscribers had a bill of fare presented to them with a number against each dish. The host being obliged him to furnish the dish marked against which he either took with him in a carriage or sent by a servant. And we suppose that's one escape goat soul whose name history fails to record inaugurated the potluck supper by thumbing his nose at the figures and letting everyone bring what the cupboard had to offer at that particular time.

Statesmen Were Busy.

Behind the marching troops of Italy and Ethiopia are beginning to appear the almost forgotten figures of statesmen now dead who planted the seeds of trouble almost half a century ago.

Two Anglo-Italian protocols signed in 1891 laid out spheres of influence for Great Britain and Italy in east Africa. All Ethiopia except for two small strips of land in the south and west was assigned to Italy.

France resentful over the pin-cutting financed Ethiopian resistance to Italy. In return France gained important territorial concessions. In 1896 Ethiopia defeated Italian troops in the famous battle of Adowa and Ethiopian independence was recognized by various foreign powers.

Six years later England made a treaty with Ethiopia which ignored the spirit at least of the 1891 agreement it had made with Italy. Then in 1906 France Italy and England drew up a new treaty which pledged them not to intervene except with the agreement of two others. Later in 1915 the three nations agreed that if France and Great Britain were able to increase their African possessions at Germany's expense they would listen sympathetically to Italy's claims for revision of its colonial boundaries. Italy disgruntled with its settlement in the peace conference after the World war made a separate approach to Great Britain for concessions but that scheme was blocked by the fact that Ethiopia joined the League of Nations before the matter was closed. The League backed by France called off the deal.

These wraiths of almost forgotten diplomacy are fluttering over the territory which may be converted into battlefields in a few months. Wars are fought by soldiers but made by diplomats too wise in the wiles of their profession to see or perhaps to care about the ultimate consequences.

Faster!

The wealth tax bill the banking bill the security bill the coal bill the AAA amendments—all are speeding through the congressional mill some like turtles some like rabbits. But on the whole there is an atmosphere of hurry and bustle. Faster is the watchword.

The tax bill it is generally believed now was given to congress to chew on while the rest of the administration's program was being completed—new banking legislation the AAA amendments social security etc. That is the most logical explanation available.

In order to keep congress really interested however it was necessary to pretend the tax bill would be crowded through at any cost before the end of the session. It was that circumstance which caused such harsh criticism of the administration's position on the matter.

But recently there appeared a new factor. The administration's must bills are being jostled by legislative cats and dogs. Inflation silver the bonus the 30-hour week and other proposals embarrassing to President Roosevelt and his congressional leaders.

It has become a race to get the must bills lunched in home stretch with all other measures strung out behind. With that arrangement the administration's legislative strategians will be able to bring the session to an adjournment in the near future excluding the undesirable measures.

The tax bill still on a pat sword of the five cities in a house committee does go into the plan. It's still a good guess that when congress adjourns it will be somewhat less than half done. There will be high tech marks where congressmen chewed but the owner of the teeth will be scattered throughout the 48 states building political fences for the next campaign.

A Damaging Word

The impeachment of Federal Judge Ritter of Utah is certainly to be free from the political implications which have surrounded proceedings against Judge Louis B. Swayne of Virginia in 1904 and Judge Robert W. Archbald of Pennsylvania in 1912. Impeachment is a damaging word in the vocabulary of politics.

The very threat of impeachment no matter how loosely made has a reputation of wrong-doers for careless care. The great difficulties of proving malfeasance are so easily forgotten when impeachment is threatened. Impeachment is only the method by which charges are made against a public official.

It is apparent from the discussion which occurred in the house of representatives that impeachment of President Roosevelt

[illegible] The real motive [illegible] stated in speech [illegible] Under the cover of the [illegible] of [illegible] and allegations of fact [illegible] which never [illegible] have been [illegible] the charges [illegible] of treason [illegible] to the [illegible] the [illegible]

The Problem Emerges

[illegible] problem were going to be that sort of relief and theory in [illegible] The experience of [illegible] beneficiaries [illegible] those [illegible] offered [illegible] the trouble [illegible]

[illegible] are trying to bring order out of chaos has made it difficult. It is attempting to prune relief lists of [illegible] but even so right to a dole is questioned and there will emerge two types of resistance which will be difficult to handle.

The first type is offered by the habitual shirker the person who is unwilling to stand on his own feet. It is this type of resistance which is most annoying and most difficult. There is no easy way to meet it except direct action in a risky and difficult thing to do.

The second type of resistance is more complex. It is offered by the beneficiary who is attempting to maintain the slight economic security available in the form of relief. He would take a steady job at decent wages if he could get one but he is naturally reluctant to risk giving up an assured dole for an uncertain wage. This type of relief beneficiary is entitled to the utmost consideration.

The government itself has aggravated the problem in his case by its policies. It has declared for instance that only persons on relief rolls will be eligible for work relief jobs. It has regarded direct relief more as a subsidy to buying power than as performance of a governmental obligation to distressed citizens. Prominent public men even have asserted that relief benefits should be comparable with wages in private employment thereby making relief more attractive than it should be.

The problem promises to be the most unwelcome heritage of the depression. It cannot be solved by arbitrariness nor by anger. Neither can it be solved wholly by those who fortunate enough to have jobs and incomes are able to be critical of relief administration. In a real sense the moral fiber and the economic soundness of the country are being put to the test. If there were jobs for everybody there would be no problem but there aren't. Some way must be found to liquidate gradually sensibly and safely the portion of public relief which the government no longer is obligated to carry.

To the Rescue.

Ohio's threatened relief crisis has been averted. The federal government has relented from its threat to leave the state with less than half as much money in August as it was given in July.

Ohio's appropriation for August will be $7 000 000 which is $2 000 000 less than it was given in July but $1 000 000 more than relief officials had been warned the state was going to get. There will be no crisis for at least another month.

It is difficult to admire the tactics which threaten to produce a crisis. Ohio like other states is at the mercy of the federal government. Therefore when it was announced on authority of the relief administration at Washington that the state's relief appropriation would be cut down Ohio became desperate.

Frankly the work relief program wouldn't be able to take up the slack. Even more plainly local relief couldn't be revived or amplified in time to do what the federal government said it wasn't going to do any longer. Some anxious souls more fearful than others had visions of real trouble.

Others predicted cheerfully that when the time came the marines would land and Old Glory would flutter out from the mast. They were sure that Washington was trying to bluff Columbus into helping the federal jobholders. Let action on the work relief program which at one time was supposed to have made direct relief old fashioned is failing. It begins to look now as if the Washington evacuate still would help appreciably the date of effective work relief a year from now. In the meantime it may be found amusing to throw a holy scare into Ohio every month threatening to shut off relief funds so they can be turned back on again in the nick of time.

Neighborhood History

IN THE SWAMPY MARSHES

The marshy land of Claridon's township in Crawford county held no terror for the pioneers of 1500 who arrived in large numbers from Germany. As far as possible they chose the higher lands but many of them built their cabins on the ridges that rose almost like islands from the swamp.

With no hope of seeing the land drained for 20 or 30 years they went to work to live in the unlight and to let out the stagnant water. After many years this course brought the desired result.

The cranberry marsh furnished an abundant harvest of berries and it also furnished to those of sufficient skill valuable returns in the way of furs.

In 1834 the berries sold for $2 and 75 cents a bushel in 1835 the wild berry crop sold for $3 a bushel and in 1850 were worth about $5 a bushel.

New York Day by Day

NEW YORK July 27—These skip-about Saturday columns are most pleasant of all to do. Without form and void they are a mirage of tumbling thoughts fault-ridden and often ignorant. And allegiance of fritters. Whatever drops into mind is laid down unpremeditating the panorama in shattered bits.

Other daily columns require the rigors of formula a strain perhaps for a metaphor or a line that might inspire a reader to murmur. I rather like that. But on fat days there are none of these warm yearnings. Things just go wahaan I mind ain't only. First come first served.

Many columns I believe envenom their wrath by sneers. Or maybe the years have made me soft. Yet I was receiving in the shaving glass this morning that my hair stubbornly refuses to turn white. It's the silver gray of my late 20s. How proud at 23 when a streak of gray sprouted down the middle.

The girl cashier at the restaurant said it was distingue—pronouncing it correctly. I didn't know what that meant. When I saw the word in print I called it distinguished. More than any other person I wanted to look like Robert Hilliard. I wound up resembling so they say Ned Sparks of the movies.

Louis Sobel jetted a fine thought in his column not long ago. I forget exactly how expressed. But it stressed by parables that so many were finding joy in the common place. That is an acquired attitude born largely of solitude. Lighthouse keepers attain such happy serenity. Also sheep-herders and seamen. As said from a man just out of Sing Sing lately said. I never knew the fun of just sitting in a park before.

Every son almost inherits some phrase or ejaculation from his father. Mine is Pa gracious. My Dad was a poetical cusser in the flow of casual conversation. An enormous gentleman weighing nearly 300 he was incited to apoplectic rages at times by something trivial. Such as a derogatory editorial about his political idol Senator Jim Reed. Then he would fume into an explosive. By Gracious.

When there comes one of the knotty days in consuming I think of the travail of H. F. Webster in the 148th street ground floor flat days. No artist I have ever known suffered such acute labor pains in creation. We called it Webs daily stew. Under a green drop light he went to his drawing board immediately after breakfast. There he sat squirming scowling gazing muttering and beclouding himself in tobacco smoke. Roy Rohn Bob Brinkerhoff and I did our chorus tip-toe. Often it was dusk and there would be a blaze of activity in Web's corner and in no time the cartoon was done. Polly the black girl would whisper. He's done done it. During one of those fretful stretches Cisper Millquist was born.

Nothing plumes my curiosity like a brawl between two women especially when they are a bit tipsy. And delicately obscene. I was at the ringside of a tiff in a restaurant last night. It was getting merry beyond words when one called the other a modern name for an antique profession and they flailed into a clinch. The poor gentleman escort was pitiable to behold. My idea of something superfine in a lady brawl would be between those human Roman candles Lupe Velez and Lyda Roberti. With Mae West as referee.

I used to wonder who bought those home beautiful and house and garden magazines. So my thrifty attained reading zero. And then my wife began an experiment in—what poet called it chambering a nautilus?—home building and furnishing. Now I'm like a dime novel fiend about such journals. Arthur Samuels of House Beautiful chases me out of his anteroom several times a week. And I have become a front row sitter at all the auctions. Which reminds me auctioneers are the world's super salesmen. One who properly hedonmandolin could double for Jim Brady. had me bidding the other afternoon on one of those piously mottoed tattings in red they used to hang over the headboard of bed. And there's just room for a week-end reading tip. Try Mrs. Archie Roosevelt's We Did It For the Children. Grand travesty on a family auto tour.—(Copyright 1935 McNaught Syndicate)

Behind The News In Washington And Wall Street

BY PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON July 27 — The news behind Britain's renunciation of the naval ratio system is that the disarmament era is over.

The state department will not admit it publicly just yet but it shares the British viewpoint about the futility of trying to maintain a 5-5-3 ratio limitation for the major powers. The lid is off. Prospects here for naval shipbuilding is it will continue for the next five years at least.

The only thing to be hoped for out of a naval conference this year or next is an agreement under which the powers will notify each other how many ships they intend to build. That is what the British are striving for. In fact private advices indicate they are frantic to get it. They are not worried about the United States but are eager to learn what Japan France and Italy intend to build.

The United States and Britain will try to maintain their existing superiorities over Japan by building hand for hand as fast as Japan exceeds the treaty limits.

This will cost every one plenty of money but the befuddled diplomats know of no other way out.

Preparation

The AAA crowd has worked out what is considered a very smart way of getting around an adverse decision from the supreme court. Its lawyers noticed that most of these suits against the processing tax are based on the contention that congress can not delegate such broad taxing power to the secretary of agriculture. The AAA lawyers suspect that the plaintiffs are right about that.

So they wrote into the new AAA amendments a provision stating that if the rates fixed by the secretary are held to be invalid then certain specific processing taxes must be levied. In other words they already have a substitute plan in expectation of an adverse verdict.

That is why Administrator Chester Davis is not worrying so very much about the outcome of the suits.

Quotas

The amendment which Senator La Follette tacked on the AAA bill setting up a quota system for farm products really came from the agriculture department. Orbindrin the administration works with its own Democratic senators in offering such legislation but it is understood that Democratic Chairman Smith who was in charge of the AAA bill did not like the quota idea and declined to sponsor it. Consequently the AAAers turned to La Follette.

Some of the new dealers outside the AAA (for one is Secretary Hull) expect that the industrial crowd will now start a drive to extend the quota system to industrial products. They are already laying plans to resist such an effort.

Squelch

The drive for federal financing of municipal indebtedness seems to have been squelched quietly by Messrs. Roosevelt and Jesse Jones.

Municipalities have on standing bonds of $15 000 000 000 and about $1 000 000 000 of these are in default. It has been proposed by the cities that Uncle Sam lend them money to buy up their bonds at market prices which are as low as 30 and 40 cents on the dollar.

Bondholders would gladly sell because they are receiving no interest now anyway. The President and Jones both are for the idea mainly because it would relieve the national admin[illegible] social tax problems.

Names

Senator Gla[illegible] did not have to draw a picture to show whom he meant when he spoke the other day about the bankers' feud in New York.

He dropped one of the unnamed warring bankers was recognized by all who have watched about the session. It is hardly a secret that the Morgans and the Rockefellers have not been getting along [illegible]

Birdies

The posed expression on the faces of senators lately is due to the fact that they are all having their countenances regilded on canvas and paper. For some reason they do not want any public info about it but a cartoonist has been employed to do a sketch of each senator. Also an unusually large number of senators are sitting for oil portraits.

Doubt

TVA execs are about to make preparatory surveys for five new dams in the Muscle Shoals area with their fingers crossed.

An item of $4 000 000 was added to the $31 000 000 TVA fund in the deficiency bill to cover cost of these surveys. The congressmen from the districts involved are the originators of the idea that more dams should be built.

BY JAMES McMILLIN

NEW YORK July 27—The most significant aspect of the Terre Haute general strike to New York sharps was the evidence it gave of the growing conflict between right and left wing elements in organized labor. The original strike at the Columbia Enameling and Stamping Co was fully sanctioned by Federation of Labor chiefs. The sympathetic walkout which tied up the city was not. This was started by unofficial groups of direct actionists representing all the Terre Haute unions sore at city officials for what they felt was unfair assistance given the enamel company's management. The success of the shutdown and the angry attitude of strikers attested the popularity of the move and the deep resentment felt by the rank and file of union workers.

The strike was called off only because of the forceful intervention of Bill Green's personal ambassador—Thomas N. Taylor—who put the screws on the Enamel union leaders to urge the other strikers to go back to work. Insiders understand he threatened withdrawal of federation support for their own strike unless they did so. Labor department conciliators helped him along.

Bill Green and his conservative associates are strongly opposed to general strikes as bad public relations. But the temper of his followers—as indicated at Terre Haute—is anything but pacific. Sentiment for aggressive action is constantly growing behind the scenes. Informed sources doubt whether Green can buck this rising tide much longer. If he continues his policy of caution they predict he will either be thrown out on his ear or the federation will be ripped down the middle by a violent internal explosion.

Dynamite

Keen observers believe that the Terre Haute walkout may be a mild dress rehearsal of what he country is in for unless labor obtains more tangible gains than it has to date.

Many New Yorkers have come to the comforting conclusion that the depression is really over. Financial and business leaders beef loudly about New Deal outrages—but beneath this flow of savage criticism lies an inner confidence that happy days from hell are well on the way. In fact the confidence intensifies the criticism. Business is definitely improving—even in heavy industries—and the stock market is behaving pretty. But these optimists calculate complete [illegible] the immense hup[illegible] ons of dissatisfied labor. There are ominous rumblings of big[illegible] ge abroad—including one in the mo[illegible] industry—and these could be more de[illegible] as a basis of earthquakes.

No[illegible] is dawn[illegible] confined to labor [illegible] and small [illegible] business men also have a feeling that things aren't going the New Deal's sharp future has [illegible] and consequent pressure from a group [illegible] a more effective [illegible] caused [illegible] published [illegible] accounts for the Roosevelt [illegible] shyness on social and economic reforms. The legislative [illegible] advocates is made to appear as his own—but actually it springs from a deep-rooted popular demand almost instinctual but containing latent dynamite.

New

Calvin Coolidge once remarked that the United States has held together for 150 years largely because the eastern states have been able to take more money out of the treasury than they have put into it.

Astute New York analysists dope the underlying situation this way. The industrial East has made most of its money out of the West. Now the East must stand heavy taxes for the purpose of justifying the West's expectation of better living standards. If the big money making corporations—and individuals—want to keep the nation intact they will have to pour enough extra money in to the treasury to enable the government to raise these standards markedly.

Naturally a struggle is to be expected before this point is conceded. The East must recognize new social necessities. Business recovers on additional lines won't solve the enormous problems ahead. Social and economic disturbances cannot be avoided. It isn't a question of mere convalescence from the 1929-33 ailment. We will have to work out a whole new way of life—especially as regards taxes and their distribution for the national welfare. That's what Roosevelt is driving at—but of course he can't say so too bluntly.

Figgerin'

New York utility men attribute the delay in reporting back the holding company bill from the house senate conference to political stalling. They hope it that Senator Wheeler and other death sentence advocates want to squeeze the last drop of publicity juice out of the lobbying investigation before they move—by holding out a hope of recruiting votes for the more drastic version of the bill.

But the power chiefs believe their opponent have waited too long already. There are signs that the first resentful reaction to disclosures about phone telegrams is peering out and there isn't enough fresh dirt in sight to keep the boys worked up. The utilities cling to the hope na the whole bill will get pigeonholed or keeps in the summer shuffle.

Rocks

The securities exchange commission has no illusions about the headaches in store for it if the holding company bill passes—whether it follows the house or the senate procedure. The mandators death sentence would simplify matters a little by depriving the commission of discretionary powers which might prove embarrassing hereafter. But that would merely be exchanging a pint for an ocean of grief.

Government experts are supposed to welcome additional powers. But the commission is looking forward to a rocky period.

American manufacturers of steel employing American workmen who spend their money in America and consume American farmers crops say no to government spending agencies which orders that steel used here be bought abroad if it can be bought 15 per cent cheaper.

It seems probable that President Roosevelt will forbid this nonsense. It would be worth while to save $150 000 by hiring cheap foreign labor while keeping men at home and sending American money across the ocean.

Detroit Wins To Stretch American League Margin

YANKEES DOWNED BY SENATORS AS TIGERS DEFEAT CLEVELAND

Cubs Take Firmer Hold on Second Place in 5 to 1 Thumping of Reds.

BY HUGH S FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Just a week ahead of their 1934 rebound the Detroit Tigers have taken the league lead away from the New York Yankees

It was on Aug 2 last year when Mickey Cochrane's men finally passed the Yanks and weren't headed again until they ran into the Cardinals in the World Series Yesterday they turned the trick by defeating Cleveland, 8 to 2, while the Yanks took a 9-3 thumping from Washington

The stickwork of Heinie Manush played a big part in the Yankee downfall yesterday although the Yanks literally knocked one Washington pitcher, Ed Linke, off the hill Heinie accounted for more than half the Senators' runs, belting two home runs, the second with the bases full Linke was knocked out by a line drive from Jesse Hill's bat in a second inning play that led to one of the oldest twin-killings on the records The ball bounced so high that Catcher Jack Redmond was able to run down, take it on the fly and double Ben Chapman off second

The pitcher was carried off to a hospital for observation

The only National League contest saw the Cubs bowl over the Reds, 5 to 1, and take a firmer hold on second place. The victory left the Cubs only 2½ games behind the Giants and one ahead of the Cards.

Walters and Disbennett stepped into undisputed possession of second place in the Industrial league last night at Garfield park as they downed the Marion Steam Shovel softball team, 6 to 3 in a postponed game

The winners scored all of their runs in the first two innings off Howard Jones, while Woody Walters kept the Diggers' bats tied tightly until the last two frames One run was scored in the first inning as Chuck Steinman, W. & D third sacker, singled, went to second on a passed ball and came home on Klingle's error of Ray Walters' bounder near third

Five runs were scored in a second-inning splurge as 10 W & D batsmen were sent to the plate Bob Walters started the spree with a long home run to deep centerfield. Steinman walked, stole second and came home on Woody Walters' single Paulus singled, Walters stopping at third base Chuck Steinman was safe at first as Walters was out at home

Diggers Score

Gar Reams' double scored Paulus and Steinman, while Reams came home on a passed ball and fly to the outfield. The W. & D. hurler yielded his first hits in the fourth when Jones and Snyder singled. The side was retired, however, before any scoring could be done Snyder relieved Jones in the third. George Steinman was knocked out by a thrown-in of a foul ball while coaching at first in the third inning.

A pass to Jones, a stolen base and Anspaugh's single, scoring Jones, gave the losers their first run in the sixth. In the seventh "Stogey" Ingmire led off with a clean single and Bill Darnell, Steam Shovel shortstop, first sacker and second baseman, poled out a long home run to complete scoring activities The ball traveled to the cars parked along East Center street in right centerfield.

Shovel misplays aided the winners, while the losers were handicapped by the absence of two regulars. The win gave Walters & Disbennett a record of eight victories and three defeats Marion Steam Shovel retained third place as the softball commission ruled out the Gasco victory over the Diggers on a protest.

Erie Traffic tightened standings of the Commercial League by defeating the Centennial Coal nine at Lincoln park, 8 to 5. The victory improved the Railroaders' standing, while their rival, Pleasant Lutheran A. C. was idle. Pleasant played its game with the K. of P. last week.

The Railroaders were forced to come from behind to down the hapless Centennial team Four Erie runs were scored in the third to overcome a 3 to 1 lead. Centennial threatened again in the fourth when the losers brought the count to 6-5 against them. Two more Erie runs in the sixth put the league-leaders out of danger.

Milt Pohler and Tom Wogan hit home runs, while Lefty Clark had two hits out of three trips to the plate. Wogan hit four out of five times at bat and scored two runs Shultz was the only batsman of the losers to gain two safe blows.

Cubs Win Tilt

Westinghouse Cubs found the deliveries of Lowry, Saratoga Grill pitcher, much to their liking and pounded out a 7 to 2 victory at President field. The Cubs scored two in the third when Junior Danner doubled and Roy Converse connected for a home run A double by Russ Harrold was followed by Fadley's single to score the former in the next frame.

Evely poled out a three-base hit in the second to score Joe Robbins and Hadley with Saratoga's two runs. The Cubs decided the issue in the fifth inning when three hits and a walk brought in four runs

The Eagles continued to forfeit their games, with the Elks receiving the benefit of their generosity last night. This was the sixth game the Eagles have forfeited

WAGNER BEERS NINE TO PLAY HERE SUNDAY

Marion Steam Shovel Club Schedules Fast Columbus Club.

Another exhibition of high-class baseball is expected at Lincoln park Sunday afternoon when the Wagner Beers of Columbus oppose the Marion Steam Shovel team.

The Diggers expect to use about the same lineup which has been going strong in earlier starts this season Bill Darnell and Felter will share the pitching duties, while Gabby Gallant is expected to be behind the plate. The Columbus team boasts of a strong team, having won three out of their last four games.

The visitors downed Plain City, Adelphi Merchants and the Columbus Junior Red Birds and lost a close decision to the New Holland semi-pros The Wagner Beers will feature a brother battery in Dave and Gaul Moore. Gaul was All-High school catcher of Columbus in 1931 and is recognized as one of the top-notch backstops of the city.

Dave Moore pitched Groveport High school to the Ohio Class B baseball championship in 1930 and has turned in a long list of impressive mound exhibitions. The game is scheduled for 2 30.

Commission Allows Protest of Steam Shovel-Gasco Game.

Three protests were turned down one tabled and one was accepted after the city softball commission met last night at the Y M C A

Protest of the Gasco victory over the Marion Steam Shovel team was approved and the game ordered played over In allowing the protest, the commission voted to have the game played over from the beginning The scheduling committee will approve a date for the game later

Marion Steam Shovel management protested a decision of Umpire Bechtle and the commission based its decision on the rules Bechtle ruled that a ball which hit the plate and rolled fair was foul The rule states that a ball is fair or foul according to where it settles

Bechtle took the protest out of the category of an umpire's decision when he told the commission he thought a ball hitting the plate was in foul territory Protests of Huber-Silk Mill, Saratoga-Erie Traffic and Pollock Steam Shovel games were defeated when the commission ruled they concerned only an umpire's decision and not misinterpretation of the rules.

The Cubs-Elks game protest, submitted by the Cub management was tabled when managers failed to appear at the meeting It is expected that a decision on this game will be reached at the next meeting

The commission voted to sponsor a game between Old Timers and a league team at Lincoln park. The veterans are to be masked and must be more than 35 years old. It is expected that a contest for fans to guess who the masked veterans are will be held during the game Gloyd "Pete" Latimore is to manage the Old Timers.

Approval was also given a proposal to extend white foul lines to the fence at Lincoln park and to paint a white foul strip on left and right field walls

DISCOVERY FAVORED IN ARLINGTON EVENT

Boss Horse Seeks Sixth Victory Despite Heavy Pound Impost.

CHICAGO, July 27—Discovery, the boss horse of the American handicap division, was after his sixth victory in as many weeks today in the $10,000 added Arlington Handicap and the betting was 1 to 2 that he would achieve it.

Even the fact that Alfred G. Vanderbilt's big son of Display had to carry the crushing weight of 135 pounds a mile and a quarter, failed to dim the enthusiasm of his supporters He was called upon to give away from 19 to 39 pounds to others in the field

Stand Pat, E. F Seagram's Canadian champion, was the second choice overnight at 5 to 1 Riskulus, Norman W. Church's California star, was held at 8 to 1. The Calumet Farm's Skip It, paired as an entry with Calumet Dick, was in with the lightest impost, a mere 96 pounds

Watch Him, from the stables of Mrs John D. Hertz, which ran second in the 1933 Arlington Handicap, in which Equipoise lugged 135 pounds to triumph, was given 104 pounds for today's tussle.

The rest of the prospective field was the Brentwood Stable's entries of Late Date and Wild Turkey.

Wheeler and Hoster Win Decisions Over Fast Foes

Clever Bouts Feature Fistic Program; Transient Proves "Find" for Local Promoters.

Marion fight fans witnessed some high-class ring ability last night at the open air arena on Uncapher avenue as Jackie Hoster of Columbus and Frank Warner, popular Cincinnati scrapper won judges' decisions in feature events The show was the best staged here since the revival of boxing here

Hoster one of the state's foremost lightweights edged Kid Mondue, former Marion fighter, in the eight-round main go by keeping Mondue's heavy swings away from his face Although considerably outweighed, the Marion puncher waded in to land plenty of blows

Mondue Misses

Mondue was missing more than he'd rarely and appeared still a bit weary from a fight earlier this week in Mt Vernon He took considerable punishment from the blond Columbus boy, attempting to gain a chance to land a knockout punch Mondue took two rounds Hoster three while three were split.

Hoster landed a blow in the opening round which caused Mondue to slip against the ropes Mondue took lefts in the second round but came back with blows to the body to even the round The Marion colored boy scored his first round in the third when he pushed the fighting and backed Hoster into the ropes

Mondue weakened seriously in the fifth and was unable to rally enough to gain a decision or a draw. Although he pounded Hoster's body heavily, he was missing more than usual with his blows to the face. Fans yelled for a knock out in the last round, but Mondue had plenty left at the end.

The main event was pushed ahead of the semi-final match because of threatening weather, but rain failed to damage the program The six-round semi-final packed as much fighting as the main go and brought together two clever boxers.

Frankie Wheeler's devastating left, accompanied by a few solid cracks with a powerful right enabled him to decision Buddy Guch, clever Ft. Wayne fighter Guch, with an unorthodox defense was unable to escape Wheeler's long left jabs.

Wheeler followed up every opening he could get but could not get in a knockout punch. The Ft. Wayne Negro scrapper at times had the best of the in-fighting, making Wheeler cautious for much of the match. Guch looked best in the fifth round when he pounded Wheeler's body with lightning-fast right and [illegible] faster in the last round [illegible] was careful as Wheeler [illegible] Wheeler was slightly [illegible] the Negro, approaching [illegible] for welterweight [illegible]

"KNOT NOW SAILOR" TROUPE BOOKED HERE

Five of the 20 entertainers in the cast of the "Knot Now Sailor" revue which will come to the Palace Sunday and Monday are pictured. "Sailor Pat" Daly, rotund comedian, is the featured performer, a nimble dancer despite his 275 pounds.

MARION FILM BRINGS SUMMER NIGHT CHILL

"Werewolf of London" Heads List of Pictures Booked for Coming Week.

A chiller for summer theater going is "Werewolf of London," which will be shown Tuesday and Wednesday at the Marion on a double bill with "Private Scandal," which features Zasu Pitts, Mary Brian, Phillips Holmes and Ned Sparks.

A werewolf is a man who becomes transformed into a wolf each night during the full of the moon. The remainder of the time he assumes his natural form and leads the life of an ordinary human. The legend is that if a man is bitten by a werewolf he then becomes a werewolf himself.

Henry Hull, who created his greatest character role in the stage play, "Tobacco Road," which he left to go to Hollywood, plays the hur -werewolf role. The weird fantastic moving picture was directed by Stuart Walker from an original story by Robert Harris. Warner Oland of "Charlie Chan" fame, Valerie Hobson and Spring Byington are in supporting roles.

"The Awakening of Jim Burke," starring Jack Holt as a stern civil engineer, and a Reb Russell western, "Range Warfare," will be shown Sunday and Monday. Florence Rice is Holt's leading lady and Kathleen Burke is the third angle to the proverbial triangle. Holt has been on the screen for 20 years and for all but two of those years he has been a star—a sensational record in Hollywood.

On the stage for the two days will be "El Kapitan," son of the never-to-be-forgotten Rin-Tin-Tin, and himself a dog star following in his famous father's "paw prints."

"Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen," will return to be shown Thursday through Saturday on a bill with "Smokey Smith," a western starring Bob Steele. Dorothea Wieck, dramatic German actress. Baby LeRoy, Jack LaRue and Alan Hale, Alice Brady and Dorothy Burgess are in "Miss Fane's Baby Is Stolen."

Portable electric apparatus for mending broken band saw blades has been invented by a resident of Sacramento, Calif.

Special to The Star
GALION, July 27—The attending physician of William Staggers, 25, of Lancaster, Pa., states that Staggers is gradually growing weaker, and his chances for recovery are becoming less.

Staggers was shot in the abdomen Sunday evening, July 7, by local Night Patrolman Charles Ferrall. Ferrall was taking Staggers and a companion to the police station when the pair demanded the police car at the point of a gun. During a hand to hand scuffle Ferrall was shot in the hand and he shot Staggers in the abdomen when the car crashed into a pole.

CHILD HIT BY CAR ON GALION STREET

Special to The Star
GALION, July 27—Beverly Phallen, four, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Niles Phallen of this city, received severe cuts to the face, a laceration on her leg, and bruises when she ran from between parked cars in front of the Buckeye Dairy Friday at 7:50 p. m. and into the path of an automobile driven by Floyd Keeler. She was taken to Good Samaritan hospital. It was believed that no bones were broken upon first examination.

HURT BY LIGHTNING

Citrus fruits are being grown experimentally in Honduras by an American banana company.

WILL ROGERS COMES TO OHIO

Famed Comedian Plays Part of Sausage Maker in "Doubting Thomas."

The Ohio theater will be popular with fans of all ages from today till Thursday when Will Rogers' latest comedy, "Doubting Thomas" will be on the screen.

The six-day run started today. Box-office findings are that Rogers' pictures draw to the theater patrons who never step foot inside again until the next Rogers picture is shown. He's a universal favorite.

Billie Burke, Alison Skipworth, Sterling Holloway, Gail Patrick, Frances Grant and Frank Albertson have the leading supporting roles.

This time Will is a sausage manufacturer whose wife, Billie Burke, has an urge to go on Broadway stage. The urge is fostered by Alison Skipworth, a pompous dowager who gives her the leading role in a one-act play to be given by the town's amateur dramatic society.

The way in which Will finally succeeds in winning his wife away from her stage ambition is said to be one of the most hilarious scenes ever played in a Rogers comedy.

The picture was made from the uproariously funny stage play, "The Torch Bearers," by George Kelly. Miss Skipworth plays the same screen role she played in the Broadway stage production in 1922.

Sterling Holloway, usually the slow-motion comedian, speeds up in "Doubting Thomas," and plays the role of a bright, snappy, up-and-coming young man, addicted to dress suits.

Another favorite actor will be at the theater Friday. Spencer Tracy plays the featured role in "It's a Small World." Wendy Barrie and Raymond Walburn play supporting roles. The picture also will be screened for the Kiddies Safety club meeting Saturday at 10 a. m.

Miss Barrie, an English actress, makes her American debut in the Tracy picture. She played the role of Jane Seymour, second wife of Henry VIII, in the English-made film. She is the last of Henry's procession of five spouses to reach Hollywood. The picture is a comedy, which concerns a head-on collision of two cars. Tracy, a lawyer, ferrets out a quaint old law in the small town where he and the girl who wrecked his car are marooned. This law gives him a legal right to seize the debtor's person.

"A Shot in the Dark" was adapted from the Clifford Orr novel, "The Dartmouth College Murders," and is a mystery-murder feature. Charles Starrett, Robert Warwick, Marion Shilling and Doris Lloyd are featured.

Headlines in the day's news, the drive on the country's leading racketeers on charges of income tax evasion, is the basis for "People's Enemy" in which Lila Lee, Preston Foster and Melvyn Douglas are featured. "Strange Wives" offers Roger Pryor and June Clayworth.
